

Kaleidoscope Randomize 0.2

Presets always produce the same results every time they are loaded right? Not when I write them. :) This preset, unlike most others, produces different results each time it is loaded! It is very similar to pressing the randomize button except that not all of the controls are randomized. In this instance, the Edge mode is left unchanged since randomizing it often produces undesirable results.

All from the same image and same preset:

Options to explore:

- Examine the preset script and figure out how it works.
- Modify the preset to limit the range of settings for certain controls such as Number of orbits and Radial suction.
- Apply the same technique to other types of presets.

Installation instructions:

Download the file. Unzip it and place the preset in your Presets folder.

To Run:

In the Kaleidoscope Effect preset menu, select Randomize and the settings will be randomized. For different settings, load the preset again..
